Compendium releases Here & There inspirational art The inspiring new line includes 52 designs in four different sizes

SEATTLE (February 2019) — Compendium is excited to introduce Here & There, an inspirational art line that honors where you are and celebrates where you want to be. The new line features 52 unique designs in four different size categories, offering something for anyone and for any space.

Here & There brings together solid wood, spirited messages and trend-forward designs to add energy to the places you live and love. No piece is exactly the same; the line's designs artfully showcase the natural grain pattern of the wood, so each piece has its own unique character and story.

Compendium president and CEO Kobi Yamada spoke to the inspiration behind the line, sharing, "When we set out to create a new line of inspirational art, we wanted to bring great design and uplifting messages to the places we live, work and play. Here & There is a celebration of what's good in the world and a reminder of all that's possible. And like all good things, they're even better when shared."

Environmental impact was an important factor in the design process. "The wood is 100% FSC®-certified, which means that not only is the sustainability of our forests taken into consideration, but our waterways and our wildlife as well," says Yamada.

The pieces come in various sizes, so they fit in spaces both small and large. Each piece comes predrilled for easy wall hanging, which means retailers and consumers can display the inspirational messages on their walls. The 1.5-inch thickness of the wood allows the pieces to stand freely as well, in case a desk or bookshelf is a better fit.

The versatility of these art pieces means you can find the perfect match for all of your favorite spaces, offering a little inspiration here and there.
